HAVE you ever thought of being able to fly around the world in a few hours though it is about 40,000 kilometers? Now, maybe you can. Last Saturday, the American X-43A airplane made its first flight. It reached a speed of 8,000 kilometers an hour. This makes it the fastest plane in the world. X-43A is only three to four meters long, but it's very heavy: it weighs 1,270 kilos.

HOW old can an insect be? 400 million years! Last Wednesday, scientists found the world's oldest insect fossil(化石) in Britain. The fossil shows that the body of the insect was as big as a piece of rice and had wings(翅膀). In the past, people thought the earliest insect was 380 million years old.

THERE will be a new "star" in the sky soon. China plans to send a satellite(卫星) into space by September 2009. It will stay in space for one year. It will go around the moon and take pictures. It must be very expensive, right? That's for sure — 1.4 billion yuan!

YUAN Longping, the father of hybrid rice (杂交水稻), won the World Food Prize on Monday. Yuan developed the world's first popular and widely grown hybrid rice. Hybrid rice plants can make more rice than the ones people grew before.

51. If the X-43A goes round the Earth, it will take about _____ hours to finish the trip.

- A.3 B.5 C.8 D.12

52. The newly-found insect fossil showed that the earliest insect was _____ years older than believed.

- A.10 million B.400 million C.20 million D.380 million

53. Which of the following about the new star is NOT true?

- A. It will go into space by September 2008.
B. It will stay in space for twelve months.
C. It costs a lot.
D. It will go around the moon.

54. Yuan Longping won the World Food Prize because he _____.

- A. is the father of his children
B. likes to eat hybrid rice
C. developed the world's first popular and widely grown hybrid rice
D. grows more rice than others

55. The above paragraphs are taken from _____.

- A. a story B. an advertisement
C. an explaining writing D. a newspaper

(C)

Having returned from her round trip, the angry woman stood outside the ticket office of the station. "The railway owes me £ 12, " she said to Harry Jenks, the young man working at the office. "You sold me a ticket for May 22nd, but there was no ship to Jersey that night. So my daughter and I had to stay in a hotel. It cost me £ 12. "

Harry was worried. He remembered selling the woman a return ticket. "come into the office, Madam," he said politely. "I'll just check the Jersey timetable for May 22nd."

The woman and her little girl followed him inside. She was quite right, as Harry soon discovered. There was no sailing on May 22nd. How could he have made such a careless mistake? He shouldn't have sold her a ticket for that day. Wondering what to do, he smiled at the child. "You look sun burnt," he said to her. "Did you have a nice holiday in Jersey?"

“Yes, ” she answered, shyly. “The beach was lovely. And I can swim too!”

“That’s fine,” said Harry. “My little girl can swim a bit yet. Of course, she’s only three...”

“I’m four,” the child said proudly. “I’ll be four and a half.”

Harry turned to the mother. “I remember your ticket, Madam, ”he said . “But you didn’t get one for your daughter, did you?”

“Er, well...” the woman looked at the child. “I mean... she hasn’t started school yet. She’s only four.”

“A four-year-old child must have a ticket, Madam. A child’s return ticket to Jersey costs... let me see... £ 13.50. So if the railway pays for you hotel, you will owe £ 1.50. The law is the law, but since it’s me who made the mistake...”

The woman stood up, took the child’s hand and left the office.

56. Harry was worried because _____.

- A. the woman was angry with him
- B. he had not done his work right
- C. the Jersey timetable was wrong
- D. the little girl didn’t have a return ticket

57. Harry started talking to the little girl _____.

- A. because he was in difficulty and did not know what to do
- B. because he had a little girl about the same age
- C. because he wanted to be friendly to the little girl who looked so nice
- D. when he suddenly realized that he could find a way out from the little girl.

58. When Harry said “The law is the law, but since it’s me who made the mistake...,” he meant that _____.

- A. they must follow the law without other choice, even though the mistake was his
- B. he had to be strict with the woman because of the law, although he didn’t want to
- C. the woman had to pay him £ 1.50 and the railway would pay her for the hotel
- D. she should pay £ 1.50, but he had made a mistake, she should go without paying

59. The woman left the office without saying anything because _____.

- A. she wanted to go home and get money for the child’s ticket
- B. she was so angry that she didn’t want to say anything more with the young man
- C. she was moved by Harry’s kindness
- D. she knew she would have to pay for her child’s ticket if she held on to her idea

60. What do you think the woman felt when she left the office?

- A. Angry
- B. Peaceful
- C. Embarrassed
- D. Nervous

A terrible explosive noise was heard, immediately followed by strong shaking of the classroom building. Mrs Li Lan, a country school teacher in Sichuan, who was giving a class, could hardly keep on her feet, and many of her pupils made panic cries. Mrs Li realized at once that it must be a powerful earthquake hitting the area. Though she herself was scared, she managed (设法) to make the children calm down, opened the door right away and told the children to leave the classroom and get down to the playground as quickly as possible.

When all the children had left, she followed them to the first floor. The earth still kept moving violently (巨烈地). Some of the buildings nearby were falling down, and a great number of falling stones were rolling down from the hills behind the school. Suddenly, she found a little boy fell over and was hit by a big stone right on his body. She forgot the danger she was facing and ran over, trying to push the stone away. The stone was so big that it was not easy for her to move it. She kept pushing until the boy was pulled out, carrying him to the center of the playground. The boy was later sent to hospital and saved.

76. What kind of disaster(灾难) happened in the story?

77. What were the children doing when the disaster happened?

78. What was Mrs Li's action when she saw the boy under the stone?

79. Did Mrs Li fear death in the face of great danger?

80. What do you want to say after you finish reading the story?
