A

As a volunteer teacher, I traveled a long way to a small village school in Longzhou, Guangxi. On my way there, I thought about the village, the school, and the children there. However, I felt sad when I arrived there. It wasn't what I expected. It didn't look like a school at all! The school had only three rooms, one for Grades 1, 2 and 3, and another one for Grades 4, 5 and 6. There was a third one for me.

The children welcomed me warmly on my first day. They asked me a lot of questions, and I told them stories about myself and my life in Shanghai. The next day, I gave them a test to find out their level. Though the test was very easy, over half of the students failed it, yet they all wanted to learn new things. I knew they needed me.

I was busy preparing lessons, reading test papers every night. I enjoyed teaching these lovely and hardworking children, and I could see that they were making progress with my help. I have also learned a lot from them. I understand their lives better, and we are now good friends.

I have worked in Longzhou for a year now. I'm very happy, and the experience has been very useful for me. I love the small village school and the children. In fact, I would like to continue working here.

41. From the first paragraph, we know the school is very _____.
- A. beautiful B. big C. interesting D. small
42. There are _____ grades in the school.
- A. 2 B. 4 C. 5 D. 6
43. The writer came from _____.
- A. Longzhou B. Guangxi C. Shanghai D. Beijing
44. What does the writer think of working in the school?
- A. Very interesting B. Very useful.
C. Very careful D. Very exciting
45. According to the passage, the writer _____.
- A. was sorry for the poor school B. worked hard to teach the children
C. didn't want to work in the school D. left the school in a short time

B

Young people and older people usually have different ideas about life. But in a special program in New York, adults and teenagers live together in a friendly way.

Each summer 200 teenagers and 50 adults live together for eight weeks as members of a special work group. Everyone works several hours each day. They do so not just to keep busy but to find meaning and fun in work. Some teenagers work on the farms near the village. Some learn to make things like tables and chairs and to build houses. The adults teach them these skills.

There are several free hours each day. Weekends are free, too. During the free hours some of the teenagers learn photo-taking or drawing. Others sit around and talk or sing. Each teenager chooses his own way to spend his free time.

When people live together, they should have rules. In this program the teenagers and the adults make the rules together. If someone breaks a rule, the problem goes before the whole group. They talk about it and ask, "Why did it happen? What should we do about it?"

One of the teenagers has said something about it, "You have to stop thinking only about yourself. You should learn how to think about the group."

46. How many adults and teenagers live together in a special program?
- A. 200 B. 250 C. 400 D. 500
47. The adults don't teach the teenagers to _____.
- A. make tables B. build houses C. cook D. work on the farms
48. How many days do they work in a week?
- A. Four days. B. Five days. C. Six days. D. Seven days.
49. What may happen if someone breaks a rule?
- A. Everyone in the group will worry about the problem.
B. The problem goes before his parents.
C. Something is not serious with the problem.
D. Everyone in the group is excited at the problem.
50. What does the writer want to tell us?
- A. Teenagers can learn many skills.
B. Teenagers can learn much from adults. "
C. Adults enjoy living together with teenagers.
D. Adults and teenagers can live in it friendly.

Hobbies can be the first teachers for many of life's lessons. If you are collecting something as a hobby, it may be coins, stamps or what else interests you, you learn many things along the way. Kids can learn skills of their future work from hobbies.

So what are the best hobbies for kids.?"

Reading

If a child can lose himself or herself in a good book, they can find a whole new world without ever leaving the house! It is reported that readers do better than non-readers in school work and exams.

Arts and Crafts (工艺)

Arts and crafts are also a great way for teaching kids the importance of using your own hands to create something from nothing.

Collections

Whether they are stamps, coins, baseball cards, model cars, ships, dolls, or what ever else interests your child, a collection is a great way to learn about people and places. Anything they choose to collect can be turned into an educational experience, Important events and even all the social skills.

Music

This may not be ideal for all kids as some people are naturally more musical than others. Yet if your kid enjoys singing or dancing, they can become great hobbies. Even learning a musical instrument is a good way to obey rules.

Sports and Games

Outdoor sports and indoor games are good for the complete development of a child's personality. Speed, skill and teamwork are needed. This is a good hobby for any kid.
